

STEWART, ROOSEVELT AND PRIMARIES—THREE THORNS

Corporation Men, at Machine Rally, Bankrupt Dictionary in Telling What They Think of the Reforms

'The Three Thorns'

"Roosevelt is a monumental, disreputable liar."
Thomas H. Devine.
"Philip B. Stewart is a political pervert."—Clyde Dawson.
"Those accursed primaries bother me."—C. W.
Waterman.

Barring these three thorns, impediments and obstacles, the machine Republicans claim to have set sail on a sea of perfect bliss. They admitted last night at a big meeting in Temple theater that this is the condition facing them.

Judge H. G. Lunt presided, and at 8:15, when he called the meeting to order, an audience of approximately 700 people faced him. His introduction of the speakers was effective, and in his opening address, aside from the prick of the three thorns mentioned, his attitude was placid and calm. He was eminently fair to the opposition and brought out a round of applause when his sincerity was evidenced by his enthusiasm.

The platform was profusely decorated.
A large picture of President Taft occupied a place in the center of the stage, and only the candidates occupied the platform. It was a pretty arranged and successful meeting, attended, undoubtedly, by as many thousands as there were of the friends of the president.

Enthusiasm was worked up by means of a band which was driven through all sections of the city during the afternoon and evening, but the meeting
was a creditable one.

One Thorn Nettles Parks.
Clifford C. Parks, candidate for governor, was introduced, and made a very plain talk. He said he would make but few promises and endeavor to keep those he made. He attacked the unbusinesslike methods of the Democratic state administration. His remarks were calm until one of the three thorns nettled him to the extent that he closed up with this rather forcible expression:

"As a Republican I do not believe that I must run after every mad theory
brought forth by some crack-brained idiot. His reference in this regard undoubtedly supplemented the sentiment of C. W. Waterman, who left his temper every time he thought of the approaching primary and the "insanity" of the people who had projected such an impediment in the path of the politician.

Mr. Parks' remarks were applauded
—but the people were not inclined to favor his allusion to progress in the party as the effort or theory of what he designated as "crack-brained idiots."

Samuel H. Kinsley, candidate for congressman-at-large, made a good impression with the audience by his tactful method of procedure. Applause greeted his appearance, and his remarks were in the nature of laudatory
expressions concerning the other candidates on the ticket.

Thomas H. Devine was at his best.
He could not pass the three thorns
without getting a sticker or two, and proceeded at once to several references to "Maverick Stewart," as he called him; "Liar Roosevelt," and "that candidate Vincent." Devine explained,
from his own point of view, how Taft secured the nomination as a result of his efforts combined with the patriotic labors of A. M. Stevenson, Boies Penrose, Barnes of New York, Mulvane of Kansas City, and other patriots on the national committee and committee on credentials.

"The accursed primary law," was the language C. W. Waterman, candidate for United States senator, used in expressing his sentiment regarding this

Progressive Republicans on Record Against Use of Automobiles at the Primary Tuesday

Believing that the use of automobiles and carriages in carrying voters to the polls for the primary election is contrary to the letter and the spirit of the primary law and repugnant to the principles for which the Progressive Republican movement stands, the candidates on the Progressive Republican ticket last night
gave enthusiastic indorsement to a motion against their use.

It was voted that neither the Progressive Republican organization nor any candidate shall hire or use
any automobile or other conveyance on primary election day, and that the candidates instruct their friends not to use such conveyances in their behalf.
This position, it is believed, accords not only with the spirit of the primary law, but with a sentiment prevalent among all believers in clean politics that the hiring or using of conveyances is against the interests of good government and detrimental to the exercise of the highest citizenship, to say nothing of the fact that it is in direct violation of the state primary law.

—This is a battle of the people against the machine;
of clean politics against machine politics, and one of the most glaring evils, most corruptive influences in machine politics is the virtual bribery of voters by the wholesale use of conveyances in which they are literally dragged out to exercise their right of franchise.
The Progressive Republican cause is a popular cause.
The men and women who believe in it believe that it is their duty to exercise their right to vote and to do so of their own free will and because they want to do their share toward the betterment of political conditions.

As has always been the case heretofore, it is to be expected that the machine organization will place no limit on the use of conveyances, and it will be a doubtful power of repudiation of that kind of politics
that the Progressive Republican voters achieve a victory without resort to this method of securing votes.

VOTE TUESDAY WILL BE RECORD-BREAKER

Fully 3,000 Registered Yesterday. Is Estimate—Rolls
4,000 Ahead of 1910

From all indications last night for vote at the primaries next Tuesday will be the nearest, which the county has ever known. The registration rolls in the court house were crowded all day yesterday, from the time of opening in the morning until long after 6 o'clock in the evening. The waiting line stretched from the registration
room, near the east side of the court house, clear out the west entrance and down to the foot of the steps. Not a clerk in the office left lunch, and when the scheduled closing time, 5 o'clock,
came near, they all saw as much work
before them as ever. It was impossible to close the doors at 5 o'clock,
and the last one in line was not attended to until 6:25. Even at that Chairman Christopher of the Democratic county central committee was on hand
helping the regular force of clerks to rush through the work. County Clerk Shelden felt obliged to close at 6:25,
owing to the great amount of other
work on hand.

Fully 3,000 people registered yesterday, and some estimate the crowd at 4,000. This, taken with the estimate of those who had registered before,
shows a total registration of at least 6,000 since the office has been open.
A total of 2,272 names had been stricken off the lists since the last election for not voting, but three times that many were added during this registration. This shows unusual interest in the coming primaries and indicates a great vote. The direct primaries will be a success, for the people seem determined to express their choice.

ernor, was introduced, and made a

LIVESTOCK IN KANSAS DYING BY THOUSANDS

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 6.—The report
that a man at Jettmore, Kan., attending horses afflicted with the disease that has caused the death of thousands of horses in Kansas during the last few weeks has taken sick and has called symptoms of spinal meningitis, the Secretary of the Kansas Board of Health, and Dr. A. S. Stone, meningitis expert for the board, to leave hastily for that place today.

Cattle are taking the disease in some sections, according to reports received by J. H. Mercer, live stock sanitary commissioner of Kansas. Mercer has dispatched veterinarians to investigate the reports.

Governor Stubbs appealed directly to President Taft today in an effort to get government aid in combating the disease. In a telegram he told the president that the department of agriculture had received the report of the situation with "unpardonable neglect or indifference." He said that more than 5,000 horses have died from the disease.

Some Distinguished Republicans at Rally Last Night

Charles W. Waterman, candidate for United States senator on the Republican ticket. General counsel for the American Beet Sugar company and well known railroad attorney. THE ATTORNEY FOR THE CONSUMERS OF BEET SUGAR WAS NOT PRESENT.

Clifford C. Parks, Republican candidate for governor. Officer of a prominent Colorado coal company said to be a part of the coal
trust. THE ATTORNEY FOR THE CONSUMERS OF COAL WAS NOT PRESENT.

Clyde C. Dawson, candidate for United States senator. Corporation
lawyer of Denver. THE ATTORNEY FOR THE PEOPLE WHO CHAR-TERED HIS CLIENTS WAS NOT PRESENT.

Thomas H. Devine, chairman of the committee on credentials, which forced the renomination of President Taft at Chicago; attorney for the Colorado Fuel & Iron company and representative of Simon Guggenheim, the smelter magnate. THE ATTORNEY FOR THE COLORADO MINERS OR CONSUMERS OF STEEL WAS NOT PRESENT.

These men talked well, were dressed well, and said the greatest issue of the present campaign was the preservation of the tariff.

They oppose the recall of public officials because they say such a measure would tend to unbalance the sentiment of the country; dethroned custom and usage and change conditions materially.

They contend that the Republican party nationally evidenced its acute progressiveness when it renominated President Taft at Chicago.

They decry the initiative and referendum and suggest a board of insanity to investigate the condition of the people who are demanding all these things.

They are opposed to the Progressive Republicans and employed naughty language to emphasize their sentiment of opposition.

They contend that the people will vote for them and nominate them
at the primaries next Tuesday.

A. M. Stevenson was not present.

Senator Guggenheim, it is said, usually sends a telegram of congratulation to be read at the meetings. None was read from him last night.

VOTERS DIVIDED INTO 2 CLASSES ROOSEVELT SHOWS HOW DIVISION IS MADE Man Who Opposes Progressive Party Is Ally of Bossism and Wall Street

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 6.—Entrance of Mexican rebels into the United States and the subsequent engagement with United States troops below the Rio Grande, N. M., as reported today to have taken place in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, the sixth invasion of American
territory by military force.

Although it was in the line of the Third Cavalry and a superior band of rebels who crossed the international line to raid a ranch on the American side, the raid is deemed more than of passing interest by military circles.

It is asserted that Juan Salazar, the ranch chief operating below the New Mexico border, is intent on causing international complications, consistent with his disavowal of the American soldiers in the state of Chihuahua.
Salazar has made many incendiary
speeches, as well as issuing a proclamation against Americans, according to advisers received by military authorities here.

It is believed that the rebels know
the dividing line between New Mexico and the Mexican state of Sonora, and that the expedition on American soil
was reported today as merely made to distract the United States troops,
starved along the border to preserve neutrality. The rebels are in great need of ammunition, and the activity of the American soldiers in preventing smuggling of munitions of war has caused much ill feeling.

It is probable that the border patrol
along the Sonora line will be strengthened, say officials at Fort Bliss, from where General Stevier commands the department of Texas as well as the Arizona and New Mexico border administration. At present there are only three

PROGRESSIVES WILL GIVE
REGULARS AN EVEN BREAK

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—Announcement was made tonight by Meyer Lis-sner, chairman of the Republican state
central committee, that the Progressive party will have control of the state convention on Tuesday's primary.

Under the plan, the Progressives
will have the right to nominate candidates for the state convention
before the election, and will place
Roosevelt on the ballot by permission. Under this plan, neither the Roosevelt nor the Taft forces will be before the people under the party designation of "Republican."

Chairman Lisner, who is at the head of the Roosevelt Progressive movement in this state, said tonight
that the action would result in whatever a advantage was gained Tuesday
when it was the right to the "legiti-mate" Republican on the electoral ballot.

What Lisner proposed is an even barring with the Taft "Republican"
and the Progressives will have an equal right to be placed on the ballot. The plan is to have the primary on Tuesday, and the state convention on Wednesday.

Roosevelt Electors Win Again in Kansas Fight

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 6.—The Roosevelt presidential electors won another round in the legal battle to get them off the Republican ticket in Kansas today. Judge W. H. Sanborn of the United States circuit court of appeals denied the injunction asked by the supporters of President Taft's candidacy to prohibit the names of the eight Roosevelt electors being placed on the general election ballot in November under the Republican emblem.

The case was argued Monday in Denver and the written decision of Judge Sanborn was received by Morton Albaugh, clerk of the United States circuit court here, late today.

This case was brought three weeks ago. D. R. Hite, attorney for the Taft followers, went to Red Oak, Ia., and obtained a temporary restraining order from Judge Smith McPherson, acting for Judge John C. Pollock of Kansas. The injunction was asked on behalf of the 15 Jewell county men who had signed the nomination petitions of the eight Taft electors, defeated in the recent primary.

Judge Sanborn held that there were no rights in which any man would be deprived, which could be considered by a court of equity, and that the only recourse the Taft men had was in a court of law.

DENVER, Sept. 6.—Judge Sanborn, in denying the injunction, held that under a decision of the supreme court, the "threatened wrongful deprivation of a citizen of his right to vote under the constitution of the United States by election officials, or others, prevents no cause of action in equity for an injunction to prevent it. The remedy is at law and not by injunction in equity."

DON'T NEGLECT CATARRH

Catarrh is a most distressing complaint, known by its symptoms of stuffy feeling in the head and nose, roaring in the ears, mucus in the throat, difficult breathing, etc. When the blood becomes thoroughly polluted with catarrhal matter the inflammation extends to the bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness and often an aggravating cough, the stomach is affected, resulting in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and gradually all the mucous membranes of the body become diseased. Catarrh is beyond the reach of local treatment. Only temporary relief can be had from the use of sprays, washes, etc. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the entire system. Then as pure, nourishing blood circulates through the body, the inflamed membranes heal, all discharges cease and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Don't neglect Catarrh; cure it with S. S. S., as thousands have done. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

FLIPS COIN TO SEE WHETHER HE MARRIES; CALLS TURN AND WEDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—"I'd like to marry that girl," said John D. Murphy, a fruit grower, as he stood talking last night with the bartender of a saloon on the D. Street coast. "Do you know her?"

The girl was Eva Keilber, 19 years old, a late subject. Murphy had never set eyes on her before.

"Why, sure," said the bartender. "All right," said Murphy. "We'll have a coin to see. Heads, I do; tails, I don't."

The coin came heads, and this morning they were married in Judge Shott's police court.

Robert Andrews, the bartender, was best man. After the ceremony he grew speculative. "How could he lose?" he asked. "I flipped the coin."

GOV. HADLEY'S VIEWS ON SITUATION IN MISSOURI

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 6.—Governor Hadley today made public a letter he sent Colonel Roosevelt September 1, concerning the situation in the Republican party of Missouri. He sought to convince the colonel that the interests of those who advocated Progressive principles lay in the renomination of the Republican candidates by the Progressive convention.

In the letter he said:

"I am satisfied that 80 per cent of those who have joined the Progressive party in this state were formerly Republicans. And I believe that a larger number of Republicans are disposed to vote for you for president than there are Republicans who have gone into the Progressive party. This fact shows quite conclusively which party in the state is Progressive."

"The situation that confronts you and your supporters is whether the control of the affairs in this state should be turned over to the candidates of the Democratic party and its success insured by a division of those who naturally will oppose them. Such a result necessarily would follow the nomination of a Progressive state ticket."

"There are, I believe, thousands of Republicans in this state who would feel more friendly disposed toward your candidacy if they felt the action of the Progressive state convention had promoted, rather than impaired, the chances of election of the Republican candidates for state and local offices."

SMITH READY TO PROBE CONDITIONS IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 6.—William Alden Smith, United States senator from Michigan, arrived here late today and at once will begin his investigations as chairman of the subcommittee on foreign relations regarding the situation in Mexico.

Senator Smith, after a local investigation, will proceed along the New Mexico and Arizona border and look into the critical condition at various points on the international line. He will be joined at Los Angeles, Cal., by A. B. Fall, senator from New Mexico. The two form the executive committee of the investigating committee. Senator Smith is accompanied by Fenton R. Secor, of Flint, Mich., former consul general to Mexico City, and minister to Honduras, Santo Domingo, and other South and Central American republics.

McCreary has had 20 years' experience in Latin American diplomacy, and he is expected to give valuable assistance to the senatorial committee. However, he is accompanying Senator Smith with secretaries and stenographers from Washington, in a private capacity. It is said that the condition below Douglas, Ariz., where there is reported to be danger of an American invasion of Mexico, will form an important part in the investigation.

TAX RECOMMENDATIONS

PANAMA EXPOSITION WILL BE COMPLETED ON TIME

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—The Panama-Pacific international exposition, to be held here in 1915, to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal, will be ready on time.

This was the positive assertion today of the president, Charles C. Moore. The perfected plan has been adopted by the directors and orders have been given to go ahead immediately. All exhibit places must be completed as to ready for occupancy June 25, 1912, nine months in advance of the date set for the opening, February 10, 1915. All contracts will be let on this basis.

The exposition will occupy 625 acres on the northern shore of San Francisco bay, and have a water frontage of approximately two miles on the bay, with the Marin county hills and Mount Tamalpais in the background. Hills on three sides form a gently sloping natural amphitheater, which has lent itself to an architectural development. The plans provide for six great courts, each of which, forming the walls of the buildings surrounding it, expresses the individual idea of the architect who planned it.

Seventeen foreign governments, including France and Japan, have officially accepted the invitation of the president of the United States to participate, and 30 states and territories have appointed commissioners to select sites for buildings. Unofficial assurances have been received from nearly a score of other nations that they will be represented by exhibits.

ITALIANS HEAR WILSON TALK ON IMMIGRATION

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 6.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson received two delegations of Italians today, one from Jersey City and the other from Brooklyn. He talked to them about immigration.

"There is no sort of visit more welcome to me now," he said, "because I fear that things I have written have been most grossly misinterpreted. I have had frequent occasions recently to meet delegations similar to this and it has been a great gratification to me that they all speak in generous language of appreciation toward myself, and also with an extremely broadminded apprehension of what my real position is and of what my real feelings are."

"America has been enriched by having the aspirations of some of the finest races in the world brought to her shores. I don't know whether we ought to rejoice that other countries are in the same degree impoverished, but for myself, as an American along with yourselves, I rejoice most heartily in the circumstances that men of every European blood have brought to this country their highest aspirations because they can't bring these aspirations without making the country greater and freer than it would be without them."

"I have never felt the slightest jealousy of the right kind of immigration, and by the right kind of immigration I mean the voluntary kind. When men of their own initiative come with a preliminary love for, or desire for America to establish homes for themselves here and to identify themselves with the country, the result cannot be anything but good for the country."

The governor's next speaking engagement is Monday at the New York Press club, when he will analyze the three political parties and their platforms.

WALDO PLACED ON GRILL IN POLICE INVESTIGATION

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The relationship between Mayor Gaynor and the New York police department: the mayor's attitude on the city's so-called vice and excise problems and the extent to which the department followed his public declarations of his attitude, formed the basis of a relentless cross-examination undergone by Police Commissioner Waldo today in the trial of Cornelius C. Hayes, an inspector, suspended on charges of making false statements during an interview on the Rosenthal murder reflecting on the commissioner.

Thomas Thacher Hayes' counsel, thwarted in his efforts to read into the record the mayor's utterances on the vice problem, finally gained recognition from the trial commissioner, Douglas McKay, by this declaration:

"I am merely trying to prove that Mayor Gaynor's policy was one under which the social evil was recognized as an unconquerable problem which had to be endured, but that the evil had to be present a front of outward decency; that in the failure of Inspector Hayes to raid disorderly houses he was merely reflecting this policy, and that any orders issued to him by Police Commissioner Waldo were directly in violation of that policy."

Mr. Thacher was then permitted to proceed with his cross-examination along the lines he desired.

"Does not Mayor Gaynor direct your policy toward vice?" he asked Waldo.

"He does not," snapped the commissioner.

"Has Mayor Gaynor ever instructed you how to deal with disorderly houses?"

"He has never given me any instructions on that subject."

"As a matter of fact, you didn't expect Hayes to raid disorderly houses within his district, did you?"

"I expected him to raid every disorderly house as to whose operations he could obtain evidence."

"You know, didn't you, that disorderly houses had flourished for six months in Inspector Hayes' district; that these houses were operating every day and that they were not being raided?"

"Yes, I knew it. I knew that disorderly houses had been flourishing in that district for a year. But I presumed that Inspector Hayes was making every effort he could to close them up."

The flower was also served at table, both as a garnish, in the way we now use parsley, and as a salad, and rose water was largely used for flavoring dishes. Rhineland Waldo, the young millionaire commissioner of the New York police department, who refused to take any heed of the unanimous demand made by the New York papers that Police Lieutenant Charles A. Becker be suspended after his name had been so closely connected with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler-informer, who had accused Becker of being his partner in the ownership of a gambling house. When Becker was finally arrested and arraigned, charged with having planned and ordered the murder of Rosenthal, Commissioner Waldo issued the following statement: "The more this department is investigated the more confidence the public will have in its efficiency and honesty. It cannot assume responsibility for the acts of individuals."

STRAUS NOMINATED

tion, etc turned to friends and remarked:

"This must not be, I cannot accept," Chairman Hotchkiss left his seat among the delegates and rushed to the platform. Placing his hands on Mr. Straus' shoulders he said:

"You must accept; you must accept; all the delegates are for you." Scores of delegates pressed toward the platform to urge Straus to make the decision. Then Mr. Hotchkiss bent from the group that surrounded Mr. Straus, and held up before the crush of excited delegates a sheet of yellow paper on which was written, "He accepts." Quickly the word was passed back through the hall and another demonstration followed.

Other Nominations Withdrawn.

Chairman Hotchkiss was allowed to act as chairman in place of Mr. Straus. The nomination of Hotchkiss for governor was withdrawn and John A. Kingsbury and Timothy Woodruff withdrew the name of Prendergast. Then came a flood of speeches seconding the nomination of the former minister to Turkey.

When the convention had recovered and Mr. Straus had been chosen unanimously he was called on for a speech and tendered an ovation.

"Suspend Jack" McGee came back to his hotel a hero tonight. He and Governor Hiram Johnson of California, vice presidential candidate on the Progressive ticket, shook hands and Governor Johnson thanked McGee for what he had brought about.

JOHNSON INTRODUCED AS "NEXT VICE PRESIDENT"

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Governor Johnson of California, today visited the native city of his parents and addressed the first New York Progressive state convention. The governor brought a message of hope to the members of the new party. Everywhere, he said, he had seen unmistakable signs of welcome for the new movement.

Wild disorder greeted the governor when he arose to address the convention. Bandanas, flags, canes and fans were waved by shouting delegates.

"Bull Moose" horns and megaphones made a terrific din. The band made a futile attempt to make itself heard, but when the cheering was at its height the bass drummer was the only musician who had any success. The applause lasted for nearly 10 minutes. Chairman Oscar S. Straus introduced the speaker as the "next vice president of the United States."

The governor attacked the "boss rule" of New York. He said that Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy had performed the "honorable duties of citizenship for the people but that the time for a change in affairs had arrived."

"This is the party of men and women who are unafraid," the governor said, "and to you today I bring the message of the west, the message of cheer; and I can say to you the revolution is on west of the Mississippi now and the revolution is going to extend east of the Mississippi as well, and that revolution means much to ordinary men and ordinary women and ordinary children."

"It is a glorious contest in which you have enlisted, a glorious struggle in which your brethren of the west are coming to your aid. It is a glorious struggle that can only result in good to the country that we love, and that can only result in 60 days of education in placing this nation one-quarter of a century ahead in its glorious career."

TRIED TO TRAP WIFE AND NOW FACES TERM IN JAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Nate and Sam Lichtenstein, wealthy real estate brokers; Milton Nathan, their attorney, and H. I. Joseph, a friend, were convicted of criminal conspiracy by a jury in the superior court today. Mrs. Nate Lichtenstein was the complaining witness.

Mrs. Lichtenstein accused the four men of having conspired to entrap her in a hotel with Joseph, who had invited her to luncheon. She accepted the invitation immediately, she testified, as Joseph was an old friend of the family. The plot, according to the testimony, was arranged in order to provide her husband with grounds for a divorce.

The convicted men may be given a maximum penalty of a fine of $5,000 each or a year in jail. They will be sentenced next Tuesday.

West Hammond Has Alleged Vice Ring

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Details of the inner workings of alleged vice ring at West Hammond, which is believed to have claimed John Messmaker, a railroad engineer, as one of several victims who are said to have been slain by poison, was revealed today before Judge J. D. Owens in the county court when Mrs. Ethel Parker, known as "Frankie Ford," took the stand and for the first time in court told her story of Messmaker's death.

Mrs. Parker told of the "black bottle" which she said Henry Foss, keeper of a resort, always kept back of the bar and declared that in her opinion a drink was given Messmaker out of this decanter the morning of the day he died. She declared that on one occasion Foss said he would "fix" Messmaker if he did not keep away.

The woman hinted that perhaps jealousy might have had something to do with Messmaker's death. While Mrs. Parker was on the witness stand a dozen Deputy United States marshals, acting on information furnished by Miss Virginia Brooks, a girl reformer, raided a number of resorts in West Hammond in search of violators of the white slave law. Six women were arrested and search is being made for two men for whom warrants have been issued.

Cornelius Moore, owner of a hotel at West Hammond, and Henry Foss, proprietor of the resort in which John Messmaker died, were arrested in the raid made by several officers.

WILSON TO TAKE PART IN JERSEY SENATORIAL FIGHT

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 6.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson intimated tonight that he probably would take part in the senatorial fight in New Jersey, in which former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., is again a candidate. Two years ago he spoke through the state in opposition to Mr. Smith.

In announcing today a list of western speaking engagements, the governor left but three open dates between now and the New Jersey primaries, September 24. His attention was called to the fact that if he intended to participate in the senatorial fight he would have but three days.

"That's enough," he said.

The presidential nominee will meet National Chairman McCombs in New York city Monday for the first time since the latter went to the Adirondacks to recuperate from his illness. In the evening he will speak before the New York Press club. Tuesday, September 10, he will review a parade and speak at the encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans at Atlantic City. Wednesday he will address the Hudson county Democrats at Jersey City and Thursday, September 12, will speak at the New York state fair at Syracuse.

He plans to return to Sea Girt Friday, September 13, and rest until Sunday when he will begin his trip to Sioux City, Ia., Minneapolis and St. Paul, Milwaukee, Columbus and Pittsburgh. He said that after his trip he did not expect to visit Iowa and Minnesota or Wisconsin again during the campaign. He said, however, he would speak at Cleveland in October.

CLAIMS DISCOVERY OF DOUBLE MURDER PLOT

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 6.—Execution of a double murder plot, by which Mrs. C. C. Bailey conspired to rid herself of her husband, a wealthy lumber mill owner, and A. L. Watson, aimed to do away with his wife, was revealed today by Sheriff Flournoy, who says he has the written confession of both Watson and Mrs. Bailey, who are confined in jail here.

According to the confessions narrated by Sheriff Flournoy, three months ago at Plaquemine, Tex., Mrs. Bailey and Watson entered into a compact by which Watson was to poison his wife and Mrs. Bailey her husband. Watson did away with his wife without arousing suspicion, but repeated efforts by Mrs. Bailey failed, she says, because she did not know how to administer the dose.

Watson came to Louisiana and obtained work of Bailey. He urged Mrs. Bailey to hurry her part of the conspiracy and she tried, but again failed. In the meantime Bailey became suspicious and quarreled with his wife. Monday she left her home. Watson crept into the house during the night, carrying a heavy ax, with which he says he murdered Bailey.

"When I raised that ax," Watson is quoted as saying, "to strike that sleeping man, I said to myself: 'This will send your soul to hell.' That's where I belong and the sooner I'm hanged, the better I will be satisfied."

Watson is 45 years old and has three daughters.

Mrs. Bailey, a native of Louisiana, 27 years old, has two children.

DANT DECLARES THERE IS NO LUXBER COMBINE

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 6.—Charles E. Dant, a wholesale lumber dealer of Portland, was the only witness examined when the federal investigation into an alleged combination of retail lumber dealers, begun recently in Seattle, was resumed in this city today.

The substance of Dant's testimony was that lumber dealers all sought to confine the marketing of their product to the regular channels—from the manufacturer and wholesaler through the retailer to the consumer. He denied that any understanding existed as to the firm or firms from which retailers should buy.

Dant admitted that his company suspended relations three years ago with the Farmers Cash union of Tremont, Utah, after the Spokane Lumber Dealers association had protested that the union was cooperative and therefore could be classed only as a consumer.

MONTANA GIVES DIXON ROUSING RECEPTION

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 6.—Temporary organization of the Montana state Progressive convention was not effected until tonight, delay in the arrival of party leaders having caused a postponement of the first session. Senator Joseph M. Dixon, as temporary chairman, delivered the keynote speech. Senator Dixon was given a rousing reception by the delegates today and his nomination as the Progressive senatorial candidate appears certain. In his address tonight, Chairman Dixon dwelt upon the incidents preceding and attending the organization of the Republican national convention in Chicago. He referred to the religious fervor of the delegates that attended the Progressive convention in the same city and declared:

"If the men of America would read the declaration of human rights adopted by the Progressive party at Chicago, there would be nothing to this election."

A feature of the hall decorations was the head of a monster bull moose, trimmed with electric lights.

WASHINGTON PRIMARIES

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 6.—Primary elections will be held in all counties of the state for the election of delegates to the state convention of the Progressive party in Seattle, September 10. At these primaries, state, congressional and legislative tickets will be chosen also, but, under the state law, the nomination must be ratified in convention. While it is announced that the rules governing the regular state primary on September 10 will prevail tomorrow, the Progressive primaries will be entirely without official supervision. In some counties, it is said, mass meetings will take the place of primaries. In other counties a "traveling primary" will be held, the vote being gathered by automobiles.

WILLIAM C. ROBINSON

Progressive Republican Candidate For State Senator, Third Senatorial District

Near the bottom of the second column of the Republican official ballot for the primary election on September 10th, the voters will find something like this:

FOR STATE SENATOR (Third Senatorial District)	VOTE FOR ONE
WILLIAM C. ROBINSON

If you wish to vote for me, as I hope you do, please put an X opposite my name in the above form and that part of your ballot will then appear like this:

WILLIAM C. ROBINSON	X

My opponent is the "assembly" designee or nominee, while my name goes on the official ballot by petition as a Progressive, and the present law requires that his name shall be placed first on the official ballot. This explanation is made only for the purpose of avoiding errors in marking the ballot.

If you were about to employ an agent or servant to perform any service for you, you would want to know in advance something about what he would do if you employed him. You have the same right to know something about what your prospective public servants will do before you vote for them. With that idea in view, I have already stated that I am opposed to the reelection of Mr. Guggenheim to the United States Senate.

For twenty years I have been opposed to the custom of public officers receiving railroad and street car passes, telephone or telegraph franks, and when holding office I have not held those favors. If I am elected to the state senate I will not accept them. The officers of such corporations sometimes say that they feel obliged to give these passes in order to avoid injustice from public officials. That is wholly unjust to the corporations, for they have a right to be exempt from injustice and without being obliged to purchase exemption. But if the passes are given for the purpose of influencing the public officers to favor the corporations, then that is a wrong to the public or the indefensible. Our city charter now forbids the city officers, accepting these favors.

The subject is an old one for me and I hope soon to see the day when a public officer will be as free from accepting a pass or frank as he is free from accepting a sum of money for performing or omitting an official duty.

PLEASE WATCH THIS SPACE TOMORROW FOR FURTHER COMMENTS.

WHEN KINGS ARE NOT KINGS

From London Answers.

Every modern king or prince has several inferior titles—the Emperor of Austria has over 17 that are usually of no use to him. It is when he wishes to travel, and does not desire to be bothered with state ceremonies on his way, that he finds these titles convenient. The Prince of Wales, who recently enjoyed a long stay in Paris under the title of the Earl of Chester, employed the best-known of the various magnificences used by successive Princes of Wales. His grandfather, the late King Edward, passed, at different times, when Prince of Wales, as the Duke of Cornwall, the Earl of Chester, the Earl of Carrick, and Lord Renfrew, the title he used when he visited America.

Such widely known magnificences are not meant to hide the identity of their owners. They are simply an indication that the bearer wants to be spared the paying and receiving of ceremonious visits. But at times royalty really wishes to pass unknown. The present Queen of Norway, when Princess Charles of Denmark, used to go for long tours on the continent accompanied solely by her governess. Hotel-keepers knew her not at all. Queen Alexandra, too, is said to have more than once visited Paris under the name of Mrs. Stephens.

Two Frenchmen, phonographists and dress-makers, particularly annoyed the uneasiness and witty monarch, King Alfonso, when he was staying in Paris under the incognito of Marquis Cavadonga. One morning the following typed message reached the chief news agencies in Paris: "The men of the press persist in shadowing the Marquis Cavadonga, as though he were a suspected assassin, they must not be surprised when a natural consequence follows." The message was marked "Private," and was kept out of the newspapers, but all journalists and diplomatic Paris chuckled at the vision of a persistent reporter falling a master beneath the blade of a badgered king. The message, however, had the effect intended.

MEXICAN REBELS

troops of the Third cavalry stationed near Huachita, where a number of the rebels have been reported recently. It is determined to receive the rebels warmly, as it is impossible for the American soldiers to pursue the invaders farther than the international boundary. Owing to the vast territory to be patrolled, only a few troops are stationed at any one point, and the Mexican invasion comes so unexpected that it is impossible to offer the proper resistance with so few troops on duty.

Patrol Force Increased.

In the recent instance the 15 American troops met a superior number of rebels who attempted to raid a ranch on the American side, resulting in a long range engagement and the capture of one rebel. Another's horse was shot from under the rider. The rebels later returned in greater numbers only to be driven over the boundary by the American soldiers.

On account of the critical condition at Huachita General Storer tonight dispatched an additional troop of the Third cavalry for duty at that point. A portion of the signal corps which will arrive here tomorrow from Fort Russell, Ariz., will be sent to assist the cavalry in locating the invading Mexicans. Additional information is to the effect that 200 rebels are encamped only a half mile from the line, with avowed intention of making another raid into the United States. There are only five troops of United States cavalry on duty on the New Mexico border, three of these in the vicinity of Huachita.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO ARM AMERICANS ALONG BORDER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—So rapid do conditions change in Mexico that as Ambassador Wilson under instructions from the state department was making a strong demand upon the Mexican government for additional forces in northern Mexico to protect American interests, the state department's agents in the latter quarter were reporting a considerable improvement in conditions.

Now, a point on the railroad about 100 miles south of Douglas, Ariz., has been regarded as the danger spot so far as foreigners are concerned for the past three days. The reports to the state department's press to remove the ground for apprehension as to the communication between Nogales and Douglas has been restored. Conditions at Monterrey are reported satisfactory.

Marauding Bands Grow Bolder.

Discouraging news comes from the south of Mexico where wandering rebel bands are becoming bolder in their operations. The entire federal garrison at Alamo was massacred by the rebels last Wednesday.

There is a temporary shortage of infantry in the department of Texas, and General Wood was obliged to tell General Storer today, in answer to his appeal for more infantry at El Paso, that he would have to accept cavalry instead.

The war department today decided to honor the requisition of the state department for small arms for American citizens on the south side of the border and the rifles will be sent from the Rock Island arsenal to American consuls for distribution.

U. S. MUST INTERVENE SAYS SENATOR CAHON

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 5.—Are we going to intervene in Mexico? Why, that is the only thing we can do," declared United States Senator Cahon of Santa Fe, N. M., here tonight.

"It soon will be necessary to send troops to Mexico to save American lives. The Mexicans are more hostile to Americans than to any other people. If I had $1000 invested in Mexico, I would not consider it worth more than 30¢. That is why intervention is absolutely necessary. I believe troops will be sent there soon."

PRESIDENT TAFT MIXES POLITICS WITH HISTORY

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 6.—From within the grass-grown ramparts of Old Fort Griswold, on Cotton Heights, President Taft this afternoon told the delegates to the Atlantic Deep Waterways convention that no individual should allow his own selfish interests or his personal ambition to lead him to climb into power over some one else.

"We should not forget our true relation to our fellow men," he said, "nor the obligations we owe to those who, as individuals, make up the body politic."

The president had been telling the story of the defense of Fort Griswold, 131 years ago, and of the courage of those farmers who had defended the walls against the British under Benedict Arnold.

Turning from the lessons of history, he took up the matter of deeper waterways, a movement which he favored. Of the Panama canal he said he saw nothing which suggests delay in sending American battleships through it a year hence. The president said: "I signed the Panama canal bill, as you know. If you were to read some of the strictures on that act of mine, you would think the executive and congress went around looking for a chance to violate a treaty, and then violated a treaty just for the fun of it. On the matter, whether there has been any violation of treaty rights, I think it fair to examine the question up one side and down the other and hear arguments on each side before calling names, or even before siding against one's own country."

President Taft arrived here at noon. He came ashore with Mrs. Taft and several members of his party who had come over from New York on the Mayflower.

The president, with his ankle bandaged, used a cane in walking from the boat landing to the automobile.

DIES AFTER JOURNEY OF TWO MONTHS ON STRETCHER

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 6.—John Morrow, who has long been a member of Ophir, Alaska, died here today, at the end of a journey of 52 days, made on a stretcher from the far away north country. He came here, accompanied only by his business partner, to consult a specialist in the hope of prolonging his life, only to learn that his malady had gone beyond the aid of human hands. Sarcoma was given as the cause of death. The body will be taken to Seattle for burial, where Morrow's relatives live.

WINTER NOMINATED BY WYOMING PROGRESSIVES

WYOMING, Sept. 6.—Charles F. Winter, novelist and song writer of state reputation, was tonight chosen as the nominee for congressman-at-large from Wyoming by the Progressive party. His opponents in the election are Congressman Frank W. Mondell, Republican incumbent, and Thomas P. Fahey, Democrat.

INNOCENT MAN LYNCHED

PRINCETON, W. Va., Sept. 6.—That a mistake was made in the choice of victims in the lynching last night of Walter Johnson, a negro, following the assault on 14-year-old Nina White, is the belief now held by the authorities here. Governor Glasscock has ordered an investigation into the lynching. After a consultation between President Pendleton, Judge Maynard, Assistant Prosecutor Rose, Mayor Pennington and Sheriff Ellison, a statement was issued in which they declared there is plenty of evidence that Walter Johnson did not commit the crime for which he was lynched.

TWO OFFICERS DROPPED AFTER COURT-MARTIALS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Two officers were dropped from the army rolls today through the approval by President Taft of sentences of court-martials. One was Captain Ross Reese of Georgia, Philippine scout, convicted in the Philippines of brutal treatment of his enlisted men, neglect of duty and other offenses. In addition to the dismissal the court-martial sentenced him to 15 years' hard labor, but this part of the sentence failed to receive the president's approval. Captain Jacques de Lafitte, Twelfth infantry, was dismissed on grounds of irregular financial transactions.

ARKANSAS VALLEY MAY BAR STOCK FROM KANSAS

PERMA, Sept. 5.—In view of the death of hundreds of horses in Kansas from an unknown disease, members of the Pueblo Commercial club today decided to petition the government live stock inspectors to place a ban on the importation of all live stock and grain from Kansas into the Arkansas valley until all danger of infection is over. Stock growers in this region are alarmed because of the proximity of the Arkansas valley to the infected districts in Kansas.

GUNNISON TUNNEL GATES CLOSED; FARMERS SUFFER

MONTEROSE, Sept. 6.—By order of the federal government's reclamation project in the Uncompahgre valley, the headgates in the Gunnison tunnel were ordered closed today, thereby shutting off a flow of 400 feet of water per second and seriously threatening crops on more than 100,000 acres.

The closing of the gates, it is reported, was ordered to forestall a settlement of a dispute as to water rights owned by a number of irrigation ditch companies that have not yet become a part of the government's reclamation project.

A mass meeting of farmers has been called here for tomorrow to consider the situation, and it is said that President Taft will be appealed to. Reports from Denver tonight were that various business organizations in the capital city would take the matter up with federal authorities in Washington.

According to Engineer Pease, the state water commissioners have been permitting various ditches outside the reclamation project to take water that comes through the tunnel, which, in time of water scarcity, works a hardship on others who are bearing their part of the cost of the government's reclamation project.

RAISING FUNDS TO PROBE ELECTION FRAUD CASES

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 6.—The call of John Gary Evans, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee for funds to conduct the investigation of election frauds, is leaving fruit. The call was not made until yesterday afternoon, but the fund is already substantial and it is believed it will soon become large enough to conduct the entire investigation. Some of the late information of fraud in the election is surprising. Counties from which no returns of corruption are now reporting specific instances. Darlington and Greenwood counties are the latest to uncurtain scandals. In Greenwood county one of the boxes had 24 more votes in it than there were names on the registration list, another box had 18 and still another 10 more than lawful.

In Darlington it was found that 38 names appeared on the list in voting precincts that were not on the registration list and that in many instances one man was allowed to vote more than once.

LAUCHHEIMER REINSTATED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Col. C. W. Lauchheimer of the marine corps, stationed in San Francisco since the upheaval in the corps two years ago as the result of a quarrel of several officers with Major General Elliott, the commandant, has been ordered to return to Washington, October 1. It is said the colonel's friends convinced President Taft that he was innocently entangled in the imbroglio.

TWO KILLED WHEN AUTO STRIKES CAR

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 6.—R. L. Hood and Simeon C. Hazleton were killed and William McGinnis was seriously injured when an automobile in which they were riding collided head-on with an interurban street car two miles south of here tonight. W. T. Vincent, a fourth occupant of the car, escaped uninjured. McGinnis was driving the car, and to escape hitting a buggy, turned his machine across the tracks in front of the street car. Both are city councilmen of Midvale, and Hazleton is superintendent of the United States smelters at Midvale.

FEDERALS PURSUE REBELS

CANANEA, Sonora, Sept. 6.—Four hundred federals left yesterday to pursue the rebel commander, Emilio Campa, and his 200 rebels who threatened attack on this town. The rebels have taken to the 430 mountains. American refugees who have talked with Campa say the rebel chief denies that he ever threatened Americans. He insists, however, on disarming all foreigners and that he will seize all horses and saddles.

Investigation proves that there are 1,700 feet of railway bridges destroyed on the Southern Pacific of Mexico on the Nogales branch, which will require a month to repair. The railway company has placed guards on the road between Cananea and Naco to prevent further destruction of the road by rebels.

BROKE THE MONOTONY

From Judge. "Yesterday," complained the Sunday school superintendent, "you boys sat through a twelve-inning game and you showed no signs of weariness. Yet here you cannot listen to me for thirty minutes without becoming restless. I can't understand why the ball game receives more serious attention."

"Because," came in a stage whisper from a seat of husky boys, "they change pitchers occasionally."

SUICIDES IN AUSTRIAN ARMY

VIENNA, Austria.—A surprisingly high percentage of suicides in the Austrian army is revealed by official statistics just published. These show that 2,614 suicides and 450 attempts at suicide of officers and enlisted men have occurred in the last 10 years.

The figures are the highest for any army in Europe and the proportion is 15 times greater than that of the total suicides in the entire population of the monarchy.

Motives were ascertainable in only about half the cases. The records show that the most frequent causes were fear of punishment, love affairs, unwillingness to serve in the army and ill-treatment.

The high number of suicides is all the more remarkable because it is generally considered that Austrian soldiers are well treated in comparison with those in some of the other states.

Business men and planters of the state of Tabasco, Mexico, are to make a tour of the commercial and industrial centers of the southern and southwestern United States.

IMPROVED PLAY DUE TO CLUBS--HILTON

According to H. H. Hilton, comparatively little credit is given to one's clubs for improvement in play.

Nine times out of ten the ball gets all the praise. Oddly enough, out of the mass of inventions, the two ideas which may be said to have a strong bearing upon the make and shape of present day clubs both emanated from players who fashioned a club with a view to improving their own game. Across the water Henry Lum invented the bulger, while the socketless iron club head was the idea of Frank Farlie.

"Bulger" Makes Appearance.

It was in about 1889 that the bulger form of head first made its appearance, and it is generally conceded this is the parent club of the present day short, round head. While it may be true that a large percentage of the weapons found in the clubmakers' shops are devoid of any suspicion of bulge in the face, it is likewise noticeable that nearly every club one picks up has the face of the head in front of the shaft.

Prior to the appearance of the bulger, the face of the club head was always behind the line of the shaft, and in commenting on that Hilton says the introduction of the bulger stamp of club is the only material change which has taken place in the make and shape of wooden clubs in the last 30 years.

Club Maker Decides Question.

To carry the analysis further, Hilton says: "Why we use socket clubs in place of spliced clubs is mainly for the reason that the clubmaker decided this question for us. He found that by the aid of machinery it was a much simpler matter for him to add the shaft and the head together by means of the socket screw principle, and, having found this out, he was not likely to revert to the old and comparatively laborious method of splicing the shaft and the head together."

Had it not been for the introduction of the rubber-core ball it is quite probable the socket club would have had a short reign, as it cannot quite imagine the present debate, examples of the clubmakers' art withstanding for long the concussion of the old solid ball.

There are still a number of players who remain faithful to the old club put together on the spliced principle, and, personally, I think they are wise, as it is much the more stable principle of the two and is much more serviceable for hard work through the green. In ages-bags of nearly all first class players is to be found at least one club in which the shaft is spliced to the head.

Dislikes Socket Brassie.

"Personally, I have never come across a socket brassie with which I could play with the slightest degree of confidence, as I have found that occasionally one is apt to play appallingly bad shots with them, due to the club head not coming through when attempting to take turf, and in consequence I still remain faithful to the old stamp of club and will use it for heavy work through the course, and both my short brassie and spoon, which have the shaft spliced to the head."

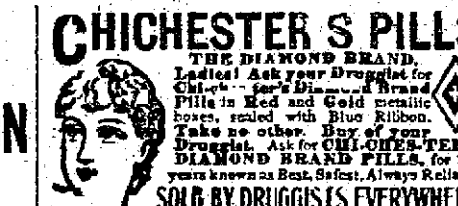

The foregoing must furnish food for reflection for those who have had the good fortune to follow Hilton round the links. Unquestionably the best shot in his bag is the brassie or spoon to the green. His direction with either of these weapons in his hands is almost mechanical, and he often goes through a day's play without once using a clock or driving iron.

Where "Putting" Figures.

It has been contended that few golfers realize to what extent putting figures in a round of the links. Take, for instance, a score of 15, considered good anywhere, and stop to think that 18 greens will call for nearly 50 per cent of the strokes, allowing the usual two to a green.

Jack McDermott, the national open title holder, as young as he is, sized it up correctly when he remarked early in the season, "If my putting is all right I'll be there when the bell rings."

Take any class player, either professional or amateur, if he is in a putting mood, confidently playing for the cup and getting a few long ones down, his score will quite easily get inside the 75 mentioned, possibly as low as 60 or 70. On the other hand, when a player loses his confidence on the greens he rarely plays his longer shots with his accustomed accuracy. Oftentimes a few careless puts worry him and the next thing he knows his drives begin to lose their sting and his whole game becomes slovenly.

EL PASO COAL MINES SHOW LARGE INCREASE

One hundred and ninety-four thousand seven hundred and six tons of coal, an increase of 12,478 tons over last year for the same period, was the output of the El Paso county coal mines for the first seven months of this year, according to the report
compiled by James Dalmonte, state coal mine inspector.

The total production of the state for the period was 5,265,981 tons, an increase of 743,044 tons over the output
for the first seven months of 1911.

Production by counties for the first seven months of 1912: Boulder, 497,225
tons, an increase of 57,245 tons; El Paso, 194,786, increase 12,478; Fremont,
330,765, increase 35,336; Garfield, 102,
432, increase 9,917; Grant, 302,432,
increase 3,431; Hinsdale, 1,920,693,
increase 137,345; Jackson, 3,611, no production in 1911; Jefferson, 19,232,

Weld, 260,191, increase 24,213.

Pitkin, La Plata and Delta counties
showed a decrease. Pitkin's production for the seven months was 45,175,
a decrease of 11,160 tons; La Plata, 61,322, decrease 1,128; Delta, 41,502,
decrease of 73 tons.

NEW PARCELS POST RATES

The new low rates to be charged for sending packages via the parcels post,
which will go into effect January 1,
1913, were received yesterday by Postmaster Strachan. The rates were recently lowered by act of congress. This will mean a considerable saving to Colorado Springs merchants who send their wares through the mails.

The weight limit to parcels has been increased from four to 11 pounds. At this time the rates for express packages of four pounds are the same as the government's charges. It is thought that the express companies will lower
their rates to conform to the government standard.

Under the new law, charges for carrying matter via the parcels post will be from 30 to 60 per cent lower than
by express.

GUARDSMAN ARRESTED CHARGED WITH LOOTING

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—Quartermaster Carl Westcott of company E, Seventh regiment, California national guard, was arrested today, charged with looting while on duty Tuesday night during the fire that swept Ocean Park. The police claim to have found a large quantity of silverware and cutlery
in his quarters.

Since the fire accusations have been made that a number of business houses were looted by the citizen soldiery, and Chief of Police Randall of Ocean Park
asserted tonight that more arrests
would be made. Westcott's commanding officer expressed the belief that the sergeant had been made temporarily insane by the heat and was not responsible.

the animals which do this habitually.

damages.

BIG DEMAND FOR LABOR
BUT WORKMEN SCARCE

According to W. C. Daily, superintendent of the Colorado free employment branch, there is great demand
for labor here and all over the state
at present, but there is such a small supply of workers forthcoming to meet
this demand, that he is unable to fill only a small part of his orders. He has a backlog on his desk now from this city
and the immediate vicinity for 70 men,
but he is unable to find workers.

The demand is most apparent, however, when taken in connection with
the fruit harvest on the western slope.
It was known long in the year that a large force would be needed for the harvest this season, and many inquired by phone for a person as to the wages, conditions of work, and when it would begin. Many of these expressed their intention of going to the western slope for this employment.
This supply of workmen failed to materialize, for very few have followed up their inquiries with actual applications lately. Superintendent Daily has had one positive order for 10 men on his desk for several days, and has been unable to fill it. He says that the El Grande offices have had an order for 100 men, but have to date been able to get only four men who may go.
Superintendent Daily says that if he had them, he could have placed 50 to 100 men in work any day in the last six weeks.

Local railroads are now giving half
rates to the fruit districts to parties
having a definite order for a job there,
so Daily says of the supply of work-
men. "Either they don't want the work
or they haven't the fare."

During July positions were secured for 55 men and 130 women, and during August, for 620 men and 214 women.

TO IMPROVE OLD STAGE
ROAD TO CRIPPLE CREEK

As a result of an agreement reached between the El Paso county authorities and the forest service officials, the old Cripple Creek stage road, starting at Broadmoor is to be much improved in the near future. The road had been put in first class condition, and
bridges, able to withstand washouts,
will be erected at a total cost of from $10,000 to $12,000.

The forest service is authorized to expend certain sums for the improvement of roads in forest reserves, on condition that the county authorities
put up the same sum, and El Paso county is allotted $2,500 a year.

The work will not be done all at once, but will have to be accomplished in sections. Despite this, everything should be completed in the course of the next two years.

This decision was reached at a conference between two of the forest service officials of this district, Messrs.
Fitzgerald and Palmer, and the county commissioners.

CRIPPLED PEDDLER IS VICTIM PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Howard Hiff, aged 47 years, a crippled broom peddler, was the victim of a curious accident yesterday afternoon
at 2 o'clock, at the corner of Pikes Peak avenue and Tejon street. An eastbound automobile, driven by some familiar who projected from the rear
of a light wagon belonging to the Pen-nell Lumber company, and completely overturned the wagon. The lumber in falling, struck Hiff, knocking him down and bruising his back. He was taken into the Sun drug store, and later to his home, 1722 Colorado avenue. His injuries are not serious. J.
B. Lloyd, the driver of the automobile,
was ordered to appear in police court
this morning.

Hiff was in an elevator accident in Kansas 15 years ago. He was married
only recently, obtaining the license
July 25.

MAY GRANT FRANCHISE

The Manitou town council, when it
meets next week, probably will grant
a franchise to the new Manitou and Stratton Park scenic railway to enter the city limits. The road desires to put its yards on Pawnee avenue, near the Colorado Midland depot.

The scenic railway will skirt
the foot hills and will connect Manitou and Stratton park. Work probably will start on the road in the spring
and it is planned to have the line in operation when the tourist season
opens next summer.

The Board of Education of school
district No. 11, El Paso county, state of Colorado will receive bids on the coal supply for the years 1912-1913 on the following, to-wit:
Lignite mine run.
Lignite slack.
Lignite lump.
Bituminous lump.

The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Said bids will be received until noon, September 7, 1912.

BANK DEPOSITS GAIN MORE THAN A MILLION

That this has been a good tourist season is indicated by the increase of the local bank deposits of more than $1,000,000 as compared with three months ago. The total for this quarter is $1,954,738, as against $854,000 at the close of June. The deposits reported by the various banks are as follows:

First National	$2,365,935
Exchange National	1,225,934
Colorado National	1,861,652
Colorado Savings	336,122
Colorado Springs National	588,905

BANKERS HIGHLY PLEASED WITH PIKES PEAK REGION

That the party of members of the American Bankers association, on their way to Yellowstone national park, who inspected the Cripple Creek mining territory yesterday, were delighted with everything that they saw, the region and the gold camp particularly, was
the statement made last night by W.
V. Liffey, general eastern passenger agent of the New York Central railroad, who is acting as conductor of the party. It was rumored that the trip yesterday was one of investigation, in view of making large investments, but nothing definite has been done in this regard as yet.

"I have been around with a lot of parties in my time, but I have never formed by the bankers during their visit here," Mr. Liffey said last night.

As to the opinions of the country bankers, Mr. Liffey said that these are with the entire west, but particularly with the Sprines and its vicinity. They were pleasantly surprised during their visit to the El Paso
mine, and the trip may result in enormous investments. Especially have they been pleased with our city—its streets, its parks and everything about it, the ideal.

The trip to the mines was made under the supervision of George E.
Scott, a large stockholder in the El Paso mine.

The party left on its special train at 8 o'clock last night.

WITNESSES RETRACT THEIR CHARGES AGAINST ESTATE

Witnesses again went to the Stratton estate yesterday at the end of the trial day of the hearing of the motion
of Attorney William Smith of Denver
to have the verdict for the defendant
in the case of Briggs, as executor of the Meredith estate, vs. the Stratton
estate, set aside because of alleged improper influence exerted on the jury.
Almost all the men who made the affidavits on which Smith bases his present motion have retracted. Two of these men were put on the stand by the Stratton attorneys late yesterday afternoon, and both retracted most of what they had previously sworn to. W.
G. Pennington, one of the jurors, and who had made an affidavit that he had been deceived throughout the trial,
among other things, withdrew statement after statement, until all that remained of his affidavit was the part which said that he sat as a juror in the case. He insisted that he had been "taken off his guard" when he made the affidavit, and "although he had sworn to it, only partially remembered
having done so." Another juror, A. F.
Shields, whose affidavit said that J. C.
Henry of the street railway company
always aided in gathering the jury,
"weeding out" those that were unfavorable to the estate and taking those that were favorable, retracted from the latter part of this statement, leaving it to read that Henry aided in gathering the jury. He also had sworn that on each jury "loafers" around the court house favorable to the street car company were drawn for every jury, but also retracted part of this yesterday,
saying that loafers around the court house were on every jury.

A recess was taken by the court until this morning, after the testimony of shildens was completed, and the hearing probably will be completed today.

"CASCARELS" FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH.

Gently but Thoroughly Cleanse and Regulate Your Stomach, Liver
and Bowels While You Sleep

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases, the heartburn,
nervousness, eruct, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarels, they immediately
cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter
and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascarels tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little bodies
need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

here, is being held for his daughter,
Terseater Roberts, aged 21. Roberts left home for Utah 12 years ago. He was later divorced by his wife, Susan
A. Roberts, and the latter was given the custody of the child, and his second wife died. It is thought that the policy was made in favor of his estate, and if Miss Roberts is alive she is undoubtedly the heir. Thus far all efforts to locate her have been fruitless. Mr. Baker has offices in the independence building, and desires to learn any news to her whereabouts.
The amount of the policy is not known.

Elroy C. Shelden

Democratic candidate for reelection for county clerk and recorder, came to Colorado Springs in 1888. His residence here therefore extends through a period of 25 years.

Considerations of health led him to settle in this place.

For 23 years he was actively engaged in business here.

In 1908, he was unanimously nominated by the Democratic party, with which he has always been affiliated,
for the important office of county clerk and recorder. His peculiar fitness for the place was so fully recognized by his party, and hundreds of business men without regard to party,
that he was elected by over 1,500 majority, overcoming an adverse Republican majority of 3,000.

His conduct of the office was so satisfactory that two years later, he was again nominated by his party, he was reelected by a still larger majority.

A demand so pronounced that it could not reasonably be ignored that he be again a candidate for the same office, brings his name again before
the Democratic voters at the coming primaries.

Mr. Shelden's friends claim, and an examination of the office proves the claim, that he has run the office of county clerk and recorder more economically than it has been run in recent years. That he has turned over to the taxpayers of the county a larger portion of the receipts of the office than any clerk in many years.

These are factors that are expected to have a controlling influence at the coming primaries.

EDGAR PAYTON

Candidate for Constable on the Republican Ticket.

Among the young men of El Paso county who have been elected to public office in the last few years, none is better deserving support as a clean and efficient officer than Edgar Payton, who was elected constable two years ago and is serving his first term in the county of Justice O. R. Dunnington. Mr. Payton's record as constable has been to his credit, for he is a young man of exemplary character and has been on the square in the performance of his duty. He has not been guilty of any of the petty irregularities that sometimes characterize occupants of a constable's position, and his official acts will bear the closest scrutiny.

Mr. Payton has been a resident of El Paso county practically all his life and is well known to hundreds of warm personal friends, whose respect he holds on account of his upright disposition. He is a respected member of the local Knights of Pythias, the Woodmen of the World and the Modern Woodmen of America. He is now a candidate for his second term in office and his previous experience renders him all the more capable for performing his duties another two years. There is no single reason why Edgar Payton should not be returned to office, on the basis of his record and Republican can make no mistake by giving him their support.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The camp fire of the Blue Bird will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur G. Bingham, 1118 North Tejon street, Monday, September 9, at 8:20 o'clock. The national headquarters of the Camp Fire Girls in New York city are planning to give to each girl who has satisfied the requirements for the degree of wood gatherer the silver ring which is the official emblem of the wood gatherer's rank. The Monday afternoon meeting of the Blue Bird will take action upon this proposed gift.

HARRY HUTCHINSON

Candidate on the Republican Ticket for County Commissioner for the Third Commissioner's District.

Among the county candidates for office there is probably none better acquainted with the county at large than Harry Hutchinson, candidate for county commissioner in the Third district, which he has represented during the last four years. Mr. Hutchinson was elected to the office he now holds in the election of 1908 and is a candidate for a second term. His record in office for the last four years warrants him in making the race not only because his record has been a good one, but because he is now better equipped than ever to perform the duties of the office with benefit to the county and its treasury.

Mr. Hutchinson has been a resident of El Paso county for the last 20 years and is a large property owner. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and at all times has been at the call of that body when volunteer services in the varied work of that organization were needed. Probably never in the history of the county has a man held office who has been more industrious in public movements for the upbuilding of the county. He has been constant in attending to the duties of his office and of scores of commissions he has devoted much time and labor to work in connection with the Chamber of Commerce, the Dry Farming congress, the Commercial clubs of the county, the Farmers Relief movement, last spring and allied causes.

The record made by Mr. Hutchinson as a road builder and in general public improvement is well known to all who take any interest in the progress of the county. Much of the improvement in the county roads in the last four years is due to his untiring efforts and businesslike work. Among the roads that have been put in perfect condition may be mentioned the Canon City highway, the Denver road, the road to the Woodmen's sanatorium, the Ute Pass road, the Lincoln highway eastward and the Pueblo road within this county. The Ute Pass road has just been pictured in Leslie's Weekly as "The Best Mountain Road in the Country."

JAMES P. BUSSEY

Democratic Candidate for County Sheriff.

There is scarcely a more popular citizen of El Paso county than James P. Bussey, Democratic candidate for sheriff. Mr. Bussey has been a resident of El Paso county for 17 years, and is well and favorably known throughout the entire county. For 18 years he has been employed by the Shiloh-Morley Grocery company and its successor, the Shiloh-Morley Grocery company, as traveling salesman in the territory as far north as Castle Rock and south to Pueblo and east as far as Limon. He is also the city salesman of the company.

Mr. Bussey was born in Morgan county, Missouri, and has been a Democrat from the day of his birth. He has never voted any other ticket. To dwell on Jim Bussey's good qualities would be an idle waste of words, as he is as widely known as any man in the state and his best is always on the surface. He is a member and past exalted ruler of Colorado Springs Elks lodge No. 399.

The Democratic party could do no better than nominate James P. Bussey for sheriff as he is a man who is equipped to every day for the responsible duties of that position. Of his integrity, honesty and fearlessness there can be no question. He is a progressive Democrat, being thoroughly up to date and a consistent believer in the principles of the party of which he has been a lifelong member.

PAVING BILL PAID IN FULL

At the conclusion of a meeting of the city council at its meeting yesterday morning, City Treasurer Hartley, Jones and City Clerk Chapman yesterday afternoon settled up all the accounts of the city with J. E. Hill, paving contractor. Hill was paid in full for the paving of the city streets, amounting to $10,622.16, city bonds to the city council at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Moore was a resident of the city for seven years, having come here from El Paso, Texas, in 1905. He was a member of the El Paso Elks lodge, No. 399, and was a member of the Elks lodge, No. 399, and was a member of the Elks lodge, No. 399.

amounting to $4,588.66, from this office and will turn the remaining money over to Smith. These bills are mostly for supplies, the largest single item being $2,445.42 for grain. In consideration of the weather conditions which hindered the paving work, the city council at the meeting yesterday decided to not hold Hill to the $40,000 bid for each day the work was behind schedule time. A bill for $2,581.82 for work done by Hill and Moore on the dam at reservoir No. 2 was allowed by the council yesterday.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1912.
DEMOCRACY IS DIVIDED

IF THE remarks of the Honorable Thomas J. O'Donnell of Denver can be regarded as indicative of the present temper of the Democrats of the State, it is safe to assume that the party has a domestic struggle on its own hands, worth going miles to see.

The party has its reactionary faction and its progressive faction. In this it is much the same position as the Republican party. But the Democracy has even more than this. It has its O'Donnell faction, its Shafroth faction, its Adams faction, and many other little slivers shredded off from the main trunk.

The O'Donnell faction is at least, frank and wholesome. The Shafroth faction is infected with an office germ that is dangerous not only to the faction but to the State. The Adams faction, so far as office holding is concerned, is not only infected with one germ, but with a whole family of them. According to Mr. O'Donnell the total tenure to office enjoyed by the Adams family in the State of Colorado aggregates 87 years. He states that this family has drawn from the public treasury over $150,000 in the way of salaries, to say nothing of the perquisites incident. Now, to make matters worse, Denver Democracy has been rent asunder. The Denver Post and the Denver News which clasped hands over issues in the last Denver city campaign are now at odds. This may have a tendency to bring forth two more factions in the party.

Right at this time with Democracy as it is and with the sentiment of the plain people, regardless of party, unquestionably and decisively for progressive people it begins to look as if real progress would come through the Republican party and men like Philip B. Stewart and his followers who have carried the real flag of progress into over half of the counties of the State this fall and have made history in the State that will not be forgotten by the people.

Next Tuesday the Republicans of Colorado should set the day apart as their day. On that day for the first time in the history of Colorado politics they will possess the power to nominate the candidates whom they believe would best serve their interests as their servants. With this power in their hands it becomes their duty, not only as citizens but as business men and women, to direct their energies toward a betterment of political conditions in this State. If they fail to do so it is their own fault. Colorado Republicans are awake to the situation. They realize and appreciate that to nominate a reactionary would simply mean his defeat at the November election. On the other hand the nomination of a Progressive with Democracy rent in twain, with dissension as it is at the present time, could mean the election of that Progressive by a decisive and overwhelming vote of the people of the State.

Republicans are in a position where they can carve a career for the party next Tuesday. If they vote to nominate Republicans possessing progressive ideas the election in November will be practically won. If they vote to nominate men reactionary in principle and spirit the hope of election would be a forlorn one.

MILES COOK FOR TREASURER

NO CANDIDATE whose name will be presented for the consideration of El Paso County voters at the primary election Tuesday is more deserving of the support of all citizens who believe in clean, efficient government than Miles Cook, Progressive Republican candidate for the office of Treasurer.

Mr. Cook is a Progressive in the truest and largest sense of the term. He believes ardently in the principle that public affairs should be administered singly to the interest of the whole people, and that control of party and governmental machinery should lie actually, and not merely nominally, with the people, to be used honestly and exclusively for the advancement of the public welfare. Mr. Cook is democratic in character and in this respect particularly is preeminently qualified to be the choice of a citizenship that believes in clean politics and genuinely popular government.

From the standpoint of experience Mr. Cook in equal measure merits support. For the past five years he has been engaged in the real estate business in West Colorado Springs. Before coming here he served three terms as County Clerk and Recorder of Jones County, Iowa, an experience which has made him intimately familiar with the business of county government.

If elected Mr. Cook will make the energetic and efficient administration of the office of County Treasurer his business. He has pledged himself, if elected, to sell or, if necessary, to give away his real estate business and devote his entire time and attention to the conscientious performance of his public duties.

In short, he is pledged to be the Treasurer of El Paso County in fact, and not simply in name.

TWO REPUBLICAN LEADERS

From the Kansas City Star.
The Star desires to call special attention to the article by Frank Sullivan in the current issue of Colliers, which was reprinted in this newspaper yesterday under the heading: "The Men Behind the Big Steel."

This article focuses attention on the two most influential men in the Republican national convention—Penrose and Barnes. Penrose is the man to whom John D. Archbold, the Standard Oil official, wrote, insisting that he become chairman of the industrial commission that was investigating Standard Oil and other trusts. Barnes is the man to whom Archbold, on October 14, 1904, "in fulfillment of our understanding," sent a certificate of deposit for $25,000.

To grasp its full significance in terms of the present day, Mr. Sullivan writes, "try to imagine Congressman Stanley, who conducted the steel investigation, receiving a check for $25,000 from the president of the Steel corporation, 'in fulfillment of our understanding.'"

Barnes is the man who was censured by the New York legislative investigating committee in these words: "The most conspicuous beneficiary of graft, public extravagance and raiding of the municipal treasury we find to be Mr. William Barnes, Jr., himself."

Penrose is one of the close advisers in the management of the Taft campaign. Barnes is chairman of the advisory committee. It was announced that the leaders would have preferred him for chairman of the national committee, but feared his selection for that post might evoke censure in the west.

HOW ABOUT THE PRIMARIES?

From the Denver Republican.
It is up to the members of the Republican party to say who shall be nominated on the Republican ticket and whether that ticket shall be machine-made or not. The decision will be made in the primaries.

The bosses, the machine and the corporations have for a long time had their own way in making up Republican tickets. For a long time the people have complained about this domination. They have threatened to revolt, and some of them actually have rebelled against tyranny. Last spring thousands of them tried the plan of voting for an independent, or third party, ticket. They since have found what a mess they made of that attempt to help the city by placing it under the control of an irresponsible administration.

Another opportunity will be presented to them in the primaries to be held on tenth of next month. They will have an opportunity to take charge of the party themselves. They will be able to control it and use its powerful organization to carry out the reforms which are needed.

It is up to them to say whether they will do it or not. It is for them to say whether they will break the machine and dethrone the bosses, or whether they will let the machine rule continue.

They are numerous enough, and hence strong enough, to settle this matter in their own way. If they do not do it, they alone will be to blame. It will be their fault if the machine is allowed to run the primaries and make up the ticket.

It is a question of going to the primary polls on the tenth of September or of staying away.

The votes that are cast are the votes that count. It is not those which are kept away through the negligence or indifference of the men and women who do not take the trouble to go to the polling places.

Let no man, after the tenth of September, complain about the machine controlling the party, if he himself does not go to the polling place in his precinct and cast a ballot against the machine.

The primaries will be held all over the state. Everywhere the members of the Republican party will have an opportunity to express their preference for nominees. But it will avail nothing if they do not exercise their right to choose.

Everyone should keep in mind the date of the primaries. Every Republican paper in the state should publish the fact that they will be held on the tenth of September. This fact should be given the utmost publicity. The Republican press should urge Republicans everywhere to go to the primaries and vote to give the people control of the Republican party.

A BIG PRIMARY VOTE

From the Denver Republican.
Every Republican in the state who can do so should vote at the coming primary election on the tenth of September.

The primary election is provided for by law in order that the people may name the party nominees. It does away with the old method of nominating candidates by a convention, under which the machine possessed such great power.

The complaint for years was that the great body of the party membership had no voice in the nomination of candidates. They were nominated by the politicians, and frequently by politicians who constituted a political machine. The members of the party were then called upon to ratify at the polls the choice made by the politicians in a convention.

This has been done away with—at least in part—by the direct primary election law. The people, so long excluded from direct participation in making nominations, have now an opportunity to choose for themselves. The names of different candidates for the Republican nominations will be placed upon the Republican ballot to be used in the primary election. Every Republican voter who participates in the primaries will be given one of these ballots. He can then indicate, as in ordinary elections, which candidates for the different nominations he prefers. Those who are chosen in that way will then be placed upon the official ballot together with the names of the men already nominated as party electors.

the public welfare. Mr. Cook is democratic in character and in this respect particularly is preeminently qualified to be the choice of a citizenship that believes in clean politics and genuinely popular government.

From the standpoint of experience Mr. Cook in equal measure merits support. For the past five years he has been engaged in the real estate business in West Colorado Springs. Before coming here he served three terms as County Clerk and Recorder of Jones County, Iowa, an experience which has made him intimately familiar with the business of county government.

If elected Mr. Cook will make the energetic and efficient administration of the office of County Treasurer his business. He has pledged himself, if elected, to sell or, if necessary, to give away his real estate business and devote his entire time and attention to the conscientious performance of his public duties.

In short, he is pledged to be the Treasurer of El Paso County in fact, and not simply in name.

BENEATH NOTICE

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.
Governor Woodrow Wilson and his estimable family are new in their experience in the prominence of a presidential candidacy. They may be pardoned, therefore, for some restiveness concerning the circulation of cheap inventions which are expected to injure the candidates in one quarter or another.

This type of peanut politics has developed a little more than the ordinary activity with regard to the Democratic candidate. He is accused to the Catholics of being anti-Catholic and to the Protestants of being pro-Catholic. He is reported to be pro-Chinese and anti-immigration. Even Mrs. Wilson has been reported to smoke cigarettes and to defend the practice among women.

While the indignation of the Wilsons and their supporters is natural, they should take it philosophically. More or less of that species of cheap slander is inevitable so long as we have the meaner class of politicians with us. It is, as Humbert of Italy said when he was shot at by an anarchist, "one of the risks of the business," with less fatal results in the case of Governor Wilson than Humbert finally encountered. The inventions are of the stereotyped class which Democratic campaign managers have employed in nearly every presidential campaign for a quarter of a century or more, such as sending men around saying that the Taft or some preceding candidate "said that a dollar a day was enough for a workman."

Such manifest inventions generally do little harm. They are so hopelessly unconvincing to order that they repel more intelligent voters than they deceive of the ignorant. As a rule they are beneath notice.

BASEBALL ABROAD

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.
The Americanization of our British cousins at last threatens cricket. Out of the discussion that has been raging in the British papers over the poor showing made by their athletes at Stockholm someone has picked cricket as chiefly responsible. And a perfect deluge of letters has been pouring in to the press complaining of the decadence of this once institutional game. Time was when the decline of cricket as a British institution seemed more remote than the overthrow of the throne and constitution. Yet it has arrived. Although this has been a banner year in cricketing attractions with teams from Australia and South Africa competing with a representative all-England team for the championship of the empire, the attendance has been dwindling and dwindling.

Most of the critics say it is because of the slowness of the game, which usually takes three days to play, with intervals for tea and refreshment. Imagine an Englishman complaining of the slowness of cricket! And how they objected to baseball when the American teams made that round-the-world trip! Yet baseball is making headway over there. In Wales there are several leagues. And only the other day one of the Americans who was at Stockholm suggested that what Britain needed was baseball if it hoped to develop athletes like America. The quickness, the science and skill developed by young America on the diamond has doubtless much to do with our athletic prowess, just as the languid national sport of Britain may indeed account for the failure in Sweden. If the British take the hint we may have an international pennant to battle for some of these years.

One Way of Saving Money

By RUTH CAMERON.

There are a great many ways of saving money in this world. And according to some people all methods which accomplish this end are excellent. I beg to disagree.

I know one woman who most certainly saves money, and yet I do not admire or envy her. I said I knew one woman. I thought of her because she happens to be a most flagrant example of the type. Actually I know a great many people who save money in a way I don't admire, and undoubtedly you also count them among your acquaintances. The prime necessity for conducting this kind of saving successfully is to have a purse that is not readily noticed.

One of these (better) money-savers happens to go in town with you. The conductor comes around for the fares and she begins to hunt for her pocketbook.

She has difficulty either in finding it or opening it, and of course you have paid the conductor while she is struggling. At that her protests are as eager as her search was not. Sometimes she even backs them by trying to get you to accept a nickel, but when you refuse she gives in with a resignation which is beautiful to see.

If you go shopping with this thrifty person you cannot help observing that she has no trouble whatever in locating her purse when she wishes to make some personal purchase, but the difficulty promptly recurs when it is a case of getting a soda check.

Again, this is the type of person who economizes by not having a telephone and self-sacrificingly contents herself by borrowing yours. You grant her the use of it with all alacrity, remembering the time when you also did not have that necessity of life, but you cannot help wishing that she were not so economical as to omit to settle for her pay calls.

This kind of person seldom wastes a penny buying a newspaper. She thinks it is terrible to fritter away money in things like that. So, instead, she lets her companion buy the paper and offer her half of it. Or she reads over her neighbor's shoulder, or picks up the paper which someone who could not afford to buy it half so well as she had left in the car.

If a theater party or some other excursion is proposed, "don't let this be the type of person who never offers to advance the money for the tickets. Instead she lets you advance it, and then either delays payment a few months or forgets it altogether.

"I have said 'she' all the time, because I am more familiar with the feminine economist, but I am sure the class is not made up entirely of females. Probably any of my masculine readers could tell me of the male economist whose tobacco pouch is always empty when it is possible to accept a smoke from someone else.

Yes, economy is a great thing, and we wouldn't get along without thrifty folks. But still less, it seems to me, could they get along without the open-handed people at whose extravagance they often gibe?

Seven Cents at Letter Writers
NO. 7. J. W. GOETHE

Though Goethe is not commonly reckoned as one of the approved masters of the epistolary art, like Horace Walpole, Madame de Sevigne or Pliny the Younger, yet he is probably one of the greatest letter writers that ever lived. Apart from the matter of his letters, their number alone is extraordinary, and especially when the voluminous nature of his other literary labors is considered.

It has been computed that up to Easter, 1878, about 2,800 letters of his had been published, in addition to about 1,800 addressed to the Frau von Stein alone. The number of unknown correspondents is reckoned at about 30, and the range of subjects discussed is no less surprising than the fluency with which he treats them.

To Schiller Goethe wrote more than 500 letters, chiefly on the principles of poetry and art, and on the same subjects he corresponded with Schlegel, Böttiger, Reimer, Merck, Carus, Dederer and others. He discussed physical science, and with Jagobi and Lavater subjects of a more metaphysical nature.

If we take into account the other series of miscellaneous letters which he must have written at different periods, such as the early letters to Kestner and the latest of all to Mariae von Willemer, we may reckon that in the course of his long life he wrote, besides the ordinary business memoranda, which were not likely to be preserved, something like 10,000 letters.

Some of the most interesting of these letters were published by himself, and now form part of his collected works, as for instance, "Letters from Switzerland," which are addressed to the Frau von Stein, and "The Italian Journey," composed mainly of letters addressed to her and to Herder. His correspondence with Schiller was edited by himself and published in 1828-9, but most of the other series of letters have been issued at intervals between his death and the present time.

It is interesting to note when Goethe was nearing the end of his life, instead of trusting his literary remains, as he called them, to a son's discretion, he formed plans of his own about their disposition, which he confided to faithful friends. He counted his letters to various persons as part of his remains.

It occurred to him that the proceeds of his correspondence with Zelter should be allotted as a provision for Zelter's daughter Doris. To Eckermann, Goethe confided the task of examining his diaries and letters to select all that ought to be published in the Remains. Drafts of Goethe's letters to various persons had been kept since 1807. Eckermann spent some weeks at the end of the year 1839 in carefully examining the letters of a few years. On January 1, 1841, he brought Goethe a statement of considerations which should, in his opinion, determine the manner of publishing them. Goethe went over the statement, point by point, and said: "In my will I will name you as editor of these letters, and I will, moreover, indicate that we are in general of the same opinion as to the method to be observed."

The energy of Goethe was marvelous when it is considered in the light of production, and it is hard to understand how he found it possible to write such an enormous amount of literature and yet find time to compose more than 20,000 letters aside from all his other various duties. A biographer sums him up thus eloquently: "This is the most completely rounded life in history—a life of monumental proportions, and yet of perfect symmetry, responsive to all intellectual impulses of art, philosophy and science, open to every light, yet self-poised and self-controlled till its calm seems Olympian."

THE HASKIN LETTER
MODERN ILLUSTRATION
I DEVELOPMENT OF THE ART.
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Some one has called this the age of printing, but to any one who takes note of the number of illustrations with which the printed publications are embellished it must appear that the term, "An age of pictures," must be equally appropriate. Never were there so many pictures in the world and never were the facilities for producing them so varied and complete. The modern illustration has come within the reach of even the cheapest publication while for the higher grade magazines there are continuous outputs of pictures so beautiful in conception and reproduction that they are a constant source of delight.

The influence of good pictures cannot but be ennobling and inspiring, therefore the optimist sees much future good in the circulation of pictures calculated to develop a love of the beautiful and yet these are often scattered free by the advertiser and at all times come within reach of even the family of moderate means. No home is too poor now to be decorated with beautiful pictures. The modern methods of reproduction have placed excellent copies of the world's masterpieces within the reach of all. When beautiful prints of the works of all the old masters are to be bought as low as a cent apiece, every public school teacher has at her command the means to inculcate into the minds of the children a taste for classic art, which most of them are eager to embrace.

Old Classics Popular

Nor is it only the old classic pictures which give most pleasure in their reproduction. The modern artists, despite all assertions to the contrary, are giving the highest forms of beauty the world has ever known and by the modern methods of reproduction the millions instead of being confined to the few hundred people who are able to attend the public exhibitions each year. There never has been a period when so much money was expended for pictures and yet by the modern means of making illustrations there is no great picture ever likely to be produced which some periodical will not be able to publish for its readers.

The illustration of books is older in a sense than the printing of books. It dates back before the time that the old monks illustrated their manuscript books with hand colored illuminations and the process of evolution from those old volumes, a few copies of which now are preserved in some of the museums of the world, to the beautifully illustrated books of the present day, is one that has been marked with many stories of self-denial and sacrifice upon the part of those who aided in the progress of pictures. The painstaking toil of the old monks was succeeded by the equally laborious processes of the first engravers. There is not an advance which has not been made by the self-sacrifice of some man who loved the art of picture-making for its own sake and was willing to work for scant remuneration to advance it. This has proved true from the beginning of art down to the invention of lithography by Senefelder in the past century, and in our own time, to the invention of photogravure by Ives, who for a whole year worked at the miserable pittance of $15 a week for the support of his family, while at night he devoted himself to the perfection of the one process which more than any other has placed good pictures within the reach of every one.

First Illustrated Book

The first printed books were really entirely of illustrations, both pictures and text were engraved upon the blocks of wood from which they were printed. The first printed book with wood engraved illustrations added throughout the text was "The Fables of Ulrich Boner," issued by Albert Pfister in Bamberg in 1461. In 1487 "The Meditations," published in Rome by a German printer, contained the first wood engravings now in Italy. A volume upon military art illustrated by 52 designs by Matteo Pasti was published in Verona in 1472, and is considered the most artistic work produced up to that time although the engraving is poorly done. There have been many forms and processes of illustrations used between then and now, metal engraving and lithography having been the most important features.

The use of metal engravings, followed by the invention of photogravure, was closely upon that of wood and by the sixteenth century some exceedingly good results were produced. Copper was the first metal used and many of the most noted works of artists were reproduced in this manner. The painter Rubens was especially interested and encouraged the copying of his best work upon good sized plates. Etching was introduced as a feature of engraving at about this period. This consisted of coating a sheet of metal with wax and drawing the picture upon the wax with a sharp instrument, known as an etching needle, after which the waxed plate was covered with acid. The lines were eaten into the metal by the acid and after the wax was removed the plate was used to make prints. Many of these first etchings are still in existence and are of almost priceless value and a few of them were used as illustrations for books now in the possession of museums.

Steel Engravings Appear

Steel engravings began to be used in England in the eighteenth century, and were quite numerous in the earlier part of the nineteenth century. The English school of landscape engraving was especially noteworthy and many of these old engravings are being reproduced. While copper was considered more artistic than steel, it was softer and did not yield as many good impressions, so was not as good for illustrating processes. During the early part of the nineteenth century the production of gift books and annuals containing choice selections of poetry and literature became a distinct branch of the publishing business first in England and later in Europe and the United States. These were elaborately illustrated, some of the best artists in making designs, both for the illustrations proper, as well as the initial letters, tail pieces and scrolls with which these volumes were further embellished. A large development in the production of metal engravings was the use of copper

Zoo Hit Five Homers But Blues Take Game

Driving in from the ballyard in the latter yesterday afternoon, Omaha admitted that those Zooz have some ball team. And, while the Blues won the game, 10 to 11, Captain Kane said the team, young men, should not feel crushed because of the defeat. Omaha, according to Kane and his pals, is a sure winner of the Western league pennant this year, and it is this advance information that they pumped the champs for 11 tallies, all in the afternoon.

Beebe and Bills did the flinging for Omaha, and they are not bench pitchers, either. Both take their regular turn on the hill and, while they did not work themselves to death yesterday, they pitched what was intended to be pretty tight ball. Five home runs by Zoozish clubbers convinced the Omaha boys that all the star stickers are not fooling for the baseball trust.

Omaha, however, proved too stout with the stick, 23 hits being jarred from Mr. Hastings, the well-known electrician. Errors at critical stages, together with a show of nervousness on the part of two or three of the local men helped Omaha ground the paths. The Zooz compiled eleven hits for a total of 30 bases, but even this unusual slugging couldn't win.

Mr. Jacobs, the demon third baseman, who sailed under a new name yesterday for diplomatic reasons, proved an exceptional athlete. Two of his blows went over the garden wall for homers, and his last effort was a three-fly knock to center. Had a sprinter been in Jacobs' shoes at that time the tally would have been a homer, but the flat wheel slowed him up to the extent that third was the best he could do. Tough luck.

Even before the pastimers went to work in the yard Mr. Jacobs laid a large wager that he would sting the opposition for three safeties. Nobody whacked up with us, so I received credit for three blows, two homers and a three-bagger. Even had there been any slum offered to forget one of Mr. Jacobs' hits, it would have been a delicate bit of work. There was no chance to give Omaha an error on any of them.

ORVILLE WRIGHT AT CHICAGO FOR MEET

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Orville Wright, inventor of the aeroplane, today joined the notables in the aviation world gathered in Chicago for the forthcoming aviation events of the Aero club of Illinois.

"The clearing course for the Gordon Bennett championship race is better than any similar course I saw in Europe or than any over which previous races have been run," he said.

First flight of the Deperdussin monoplane, upon which France bases her hopes of taking home the Gordon Bennett trophy and the world's championship in aviation, failed to show the expected 100 miles an hour.

Julius Vedrine required exactly 2 minutes 30 seconds to complete the 4.14-mile course, a rate of 99 miles an hour. He came down after three laps. Maurice Prevost later completed two circles of the field at 96 miles an hour.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—New York again won both games of a double-header, giving them five victories out of six contests in three days in this city. New York won the opener by hitting Rixey's delivery hard in the third and fourth innings. Teece pitched in grand style and after the game was given credit by the official scorer for a no-hit victory, although previously one hit had been recorded against him.

The disputed play came in the first inning. Paskert hit a fly near the pitcher, for which Merkle and Wilson ran. Each frailer got under the ball, then, fearing a collision, they permitted the ball to drop to the ground. After the game the official scorer reversed his decision on the hit for Paskert and gave Merkle an error, as the latter said he had touched the ball when he saw that Wilson would not run into him.

The second game was hard fought, each team using three pitchers. New York winning in the ninth on an error, two singles and a sacrifice.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

TRIAL CLEANUP MADE RECENTLY IN GAYLORD

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 6.—According to local miners, the trial cleanup of the mine, located on ground owned by the Danie company, and leased by the property, a cleanup has been made after a trial run of 10 days, trending about 100 feet of ore from the dump which run, 100 feet and under. Mr. Gaylord stated last night that he was quite satisfied with the result, and he expected to be surprised. He declared that the mill was making good.

The Gaylord mill has previously been operated in this district, having the ore from the Jerry Johnson mine. It was dismantled after it had been in operation for some time, and was moved to the Danie property. The mill is now being run on a trial basis, and the ore is being run through the mill.

AUGUST OUTPUT OF JOE DANDY RUNS 800 TONS

From the Joe Dandy mine, on Gaylord hill, Lessee James H. Pouberty shipped 800 tons of ore last month which averaged about $21 a ton. This is the largest production which has been shipped from this mine in some time.

The bulk of this ore came from the 500-foot level of the main shaft, although one of the sublevels made several shipments from the 300-foot level. Settlements on this ore are $21 a ton, with a 10-cent bonus.

The Joe Dandy mine has been in operation during the last year by lessees who have encountered some fine ore on the 500 or bottom level. There has been another sensational strike made on one of the upper levels. The output has been increased to the capacity of the ore house and the hoist. The property is now in condition to make profits for the company and for the lessees.

AUGUST TONNAGE EIGHT CARS

From the South Burns mine, on Bull hill, the chief shaft of the Arden company's estate, eight cars were shipped on the South Burns Mining company, the same mining company, as well as several sets of sublevels. An average of the grade cannot be ascertained as some of the ore shipped was of superior grade, while other was of the medium class.

WHAT I DO IN MY READINGS
I tell your name, tell you age, your occupation, and what conditions your business is in and how to promote it; tell you all about your wife, husband, sweetheart or lover, and how to win the love of any one you desire. I tell you of any move, journey, speculation, position or change of any kind which may be before you and how to act to obtain the best results. I tell you exactly what your acquaintances think of you, who to trust and who to shun. I tell you whom and when you will marry, if at all, and give their names, occupation and disposition.
